One Reason We Don't Have a Better World Is Many Folks See No Wrong With This One

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the reasons we don't have a better world is that many people don't see too much wrong with the one we have.

They lack the imagination to see how our present defective paradise can be improved. Actually, of course, a better world can be achieved only by making people better. This means that each individual must resolve to do better.

But many people are stumped when the annual season comes for making good resolutions. They honestly can't see why, in their own cases, any are necessary.

If this happens to be your plight, here is a checklist of suggested resolutions to guide you: I, insert your own name, do hereby resolve during 1965 to — — Cease bearing false witness against my neighbor. After all, I should be able to fix his little red wagon just by telling the truth about him.

— Really contribute as much to charity as I claim I do on my income tax return.

— Never zip into a desirable parking place while the fellow ahead of me is trying to back into it.

— Refrain from telling my teen-ager how much tougher life was when I was a kid, since I know very well my father had a tougher life than both of us put together.

at his age needs all the help he can get in seeking a new job.

— Limit my denunciations of the government — and my consumption of martinis — to no more than two a day.

— Abstain, so far as possible, from jeering at women, suburbanites, after-dinner speakers and television comedians. Those forms of life are in desperate need of encouragement, not criticism.

— Get at least five more hours of sleep at home each week, and sleep five fewer hours on the job.

— Shout any praise I have for others, but only whisper any complaints I have about my own woes.

Now, paste this list of resolutions in your hat. If, by the end of 1965, you have kept even half of them, you will have done more than create a better world around you.

You will have won personal immortality. For your amazed friends most certainly will have erected a statue in your honor.

More Money to Fight Forest Fire

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Forestry Commission will receive an extra $23,400 to aid in fighting fires and in allied services to the timber industry, commissioner Fred H. Lang said Tuesday.

Lang said the money will come from a voluntary assessment of two cents an acre on about 1168,000 acres acquired by the Crossett Branch of Georgia-Pacific Corp. in buying a Fordyce timber firm.

The commission receives about $90,000 a year in voluntary assessments on land held by the timber industry. Lang said the Fordyce firm had stopped paying the assessment in 1951.

Clearance Banks Are Selected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Treasurer Nancy Hall said Tuesday the Citizens Bank of Jonesboro has been chosen to handle the state's check clearing accounts in Eastern Arkansas.

Five other banks have been designated for similar tasks: First National, Union National and Worthen Bank and Trust Co., Little Rock; Simmons National, Pine Bluff and State National, Texarkana.

Mississippi Jury to Take Up Slayings

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A federal grand jury reconvenes Jan. 11 to consider Mississippi's case of the three slain civil rights workers — including "new evidence."

A government source confirmed reports of new evidence in the Justice Department's efforts to bring 21 men to trial in the case.

The civil rights workers were killed near Philadelphia, Miss., last summer after venturing into Neshoba County to investigate the burning of a Negro church.

Judge Harold Cox of Jackson issued the call Tuesday for the grand jury to reconvene. His order made no mention of the murders.

The Justice Department asked for the grand jury after U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter dismissed charges against 19 of the men at a Meridian hearing.

The commissioner's decision in the hearing, at which the government had only to show "probable cause" for a charge, was termed unprecedented by the Justice Department.

Charges against the other two men — arrested at Biloxi, Miss., and Shreveport, La. — were dropped.

Two Accidents Investigated

Two accidents were reported by City Police yesterday. On Highway 67 East an auto driven by Barry Randall hit a calf which had gotten out from Freeda's Angus Farm.

City Officers Prescott and Clark said the Volkswagen was damaged but the calf wasn't injured too much.

On North Hazel Street about noon yesterday an auto driven by Barry Randall ran into the back end of another driven by Joe Jones. City Officers charged Randall with following too close. Damage was slight.

Flood Is Called Worst in More Than 1000 Yrs.

By LYLE W. PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Far West's "flood of a thousand years" entered the recovery stage today as 15,000 homeless families and hundreds of stricken farms and businesses dug out from nature's $1-billion blow.

"As far as the real emergency — that's over, right now," said Jim Morrison, Civil Defense spokesman at Eureka, Calif., in hard-hit Humboldt County.

The report was identical in the five flood-distressed states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

Helicopters and jeeps brought the first outside food supplies in a week Tuesday to the last known isolated pocket — 500 persons stranded in lumbering villages west of Yreka, Calif., near the Oregon border.

"Everything's beginning to look a lot rosier," reported Bill Sowle, Yreka Civil Defense chief.

"They're getting back down into the towns now and starting to dig out," said Morrison. "No more people want to be evacuated. They want to be sustained where they are."

The flood, described by Department of Interior water specialists as probably the greatest ever experienced in the West, caused 19 known deaths in California and 18 in Oregon.

It carved federally designated disaster areas out of northern California, Oregon and Washington, where federal, local and charitable organizations are running emergency recovery centers on a "for-the-duration" basis.

California's damage was estimated at upwards of $500 million.

In Oregon, many evacuees returned to devastation left by the Willamette River. Oregon's damage totaled $315 million in what Gov. Mark Hatfield terms his state's worst disaster.

At Reedsport, an estimated 1,000 people were stranded.

Registration Changes Are Doubtful

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two backers of the voter registration amendment approved by Arkansas in the November general election expressed doubts Tuesday about proposed changes in the registration form.

State Senator-elect Jim Brandon of Pulaski County said he felt the amendment should be followed "exactly as written" for at least two years, to gain experience with it.

His comment came after the state Election Commission adopted the registration form Monday, providing space for designation of the voter's race, political party affiliation and absentee registration.

None of the provisions were contained in the amendment approved by the voters. The legislature has final authority over the form.

Dr. H. D. Luck of Arkadelphia, chairman of the committee that fought for approval of the amendment, said the law should be changed only if experience with it clearly shows a need for change.

Luck said in a prepared statement that the committee was concerned that implication of the permanent voter registration system might be delayed by proposed changes.

The committee, he said, sees no need for a party affiliation designation and that it would vigorously oppose attempts to include absentee registration under permanent registration.

Sees Breakthrough in Cancer Curative Drugs Sooner Than U.S. Will Get to the Moon

By FRANK CAREY

MONTREAL (AP) — An American cancer specialist forecasts that final breakthroughs toward controlling cancer by vaccines and miraculous curative drugs will be achieved "quicker than we'll get to the moon" — perhaps soon after 1970.

Dr. Jacob Gershon-Cohen of Philadelphia said he based that prediction on his confidence that by that time:

1. Final proof will have been established that many, if not most, cancers are caused by viruses; and 2. Further development will have been made on recent discoveries in understanding the structure of the basic core of all viruses — specifically, the nucleic acids DNA and RNA.

He said these discoveries are "probably more significant, if less appreciated by the public, than the unlocking of atomic energy."

Gershon-Cohen, a radiologist of the Albert Einstein Medical Center, spoke at a news conference prior to acting as chairman today of a symposium on viruses and cancer at the 131st meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Gershon-Cohen also told newsmen: 1. Achievement of better control over ordinary viruses — including those of the common cold — may help reduce the danger of getting cancer. It is possible some such viruses may be insidious helpmates of cancer-causers, or even cancer-causers themselves.

2. The day will come when the taking of the temperature of specific areas of the body with devices based on infra-red detection techniques "will be as important as X-ray" in helping detect ailments.

3. All people may be harboring latent, non-active cancer viruses — with cancer developing only in those people exposed to some triggering action such as excessive radiation, certain chemicals, or some internal disturbance.

"I think we'll get positive results quicker than we'll get to the moon," said Gershon-Cohen.

When a reporter said the American space agency has its sights set on a moon landing by 1970, Gershon-Cohen said he expected the cancer breakthroughs would be almost achieved by then.

In answer to another question, he said that by then he expected the way would finally be open to perfecting vaccines and curative drugs. He added that it would be only "wild speculation" to hazard a guess on when such vaccines and drugs actually would be developed.

Losses Heavy But Viet Nam Takes Capital

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces recaptured the district capital of Binh Nghia today, but the Viet Cong captured two U.S. enlisted men and wiped out nearly two companies of government troops.

Two other U.S. soldiers, members of the Special Forces, were killed Tuesday night in another action 30 miles north of Saigon. Their deaths brought to 241 the number of Americans killed in combat since December 1961.

Thirteen Americans now are missing.

Six U.S. servicemen also were wounded in the three-day battle for Binh Nghia, 40 miles east of Saigon. Fighting still flickered Wednesday evening, but the Viet Cong was believed to have made its final onslaught on the town.

At the peak of the fighting some 1,200 government troops faced about the same number of Communists, making it one of the largest engagements in Viet Nam in the past four years.

Three U.S. helicopters were shot down Tuesday.

The town, jammed with 6,000 Roman Catholic refugees from Communist North Viet Nam, was occupied by the Viet Cong on Dec. 5 but government forces drove them out.

A powerful Viet Cong unit overran Binh Nghia again Monday. Two government Ranger companies tried to re-enter the town but were driven out. U.S. helicopters poured in troops Tuesday for the final assault.

In a seething battle around the town Tuesday, 175 battle-hardened Vietnamese Rangers were pinned down by the Viet Cong. This unit suffered at least 24 killed and an unknown number of wounded and missing.

May Appeal Ruling in Klan Case

MACON, Ga. (AP) — The federal government, stymied in efforts to try six alleged Ku Klux Klansmen charged with conspiring to oppress Negroes, may appeal the ruling of a district judge to the U.S. Supreme Court.

U.S. Dist. Judge W. A. Bootle dismissed federal conspiracy indictments against the six Tuesday. The federal charges were brought after two of the six were acquitted in a state court in the shotgun slaying of Lemuel Penn, Washington, D.C. Negro educator.

Bootle's ruling said enforcement of general criminal laws is a local matter. He referred to the state acquittal of murder charges for two of the six and said it is important that the federal court "not usurp jurisdiction where it has none."

Penn, a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, was hit by shotgun blasts fired from a passing car in early morning darkness July 11. He was returning to Washington with two other Negro officers after two weeks of active duty at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Cecil Myers and Joseph Howard Sims were acquitted of murder charges in the Penn slaying in a state court trial at Danielsville Sept. 4.

They were among six later charged by the FBI with conspiring to injure and oppress Negroes. The other four are Denver Willis Phillips, George H. Turner, Herbert Guest and James S. Lackey.

State murder charges are still pending against Lackey.

Clete Johnson, state prosecutor, said Tuesday night he has not decided whether to press the murder charges against Lackey.

A jury freed Myers and Sims of the Penn slaying after deliberating three hours. The state introduced a statement quoting Lackey as having said that he, Sims and Myers spotted the Penn car, followed it and that both Sims and Myers fired shotguns into the car.

Lackey repudiated the statement, declaring he was harassed by the FBI into making it. The defense also produced witnesses who said they saw Sims and Myers at an all night cafe in Athens on July 11 up to 5:20 a.m.

Losses Heavy

Many of the missing were seen being led off as captives of the Viet Cong. Among them were two American advisers. In Saigon, a number of officials said they believed another coup attempt was afoot. Outwardly things appeared peaceful as negotiations continued on the dispute between U.S. authorities and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the armed forces chief, over military intervention in South Viet Nam's civilian government. But there was widespread fear, apparently based on inside information, that a new and possibly violent plot was about to hatch.

However, Secretary of State Dean Rusk was reported to have told President Johnson Tuesday that the next few days may see steps in Viet Nam toward establishing a measure of unity in the divided government.

In Washington, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga. chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he wants a re-evaluation of the U.S. position in South Viet Nam.

Informed sources in Seoul said South Korea has decided to send about 1,200 army men and marines to South Viet Nam to serve as technical instructors. There was no official confirmation.

Flood Is Called

500 persons were still receiving clothing and food from volunteer centers and the Red Cross. Several dozen homeless were bedded down at the Independence, Ore., city hall.

In Washington, latest state to be added to the disaster list by President Johnson, most high-water problems have ended. No persons are known to be stranded.

The Yakima River in central Washington posed a potential threat because of two huge ice jams, one a mile long and the other three miles in length. Many passes in the Cascade Mountains remained closed by snow slides.

Washington estimated its damage as $7 million.

In Idaho and Nevada, snow or cold weather prevailed, replacing flood conditions unusual for those areas. Rivers neared normal levels.

Idaho estimated damage as $5 million. Nevada officials ventured no dollar estimate of damage.

In Oregon and California refugee areas, as one county official put it, the people were asking "Who's going to help us? We're destitute and we've lost our homes."

The Red Cross and the Office of Emergency Planning announced they have begun flyovers of the disaster areas to determine long-range recovery needs.

All branches of the military worked beside civilian workers for an extended airlift of food, medicine, livestock feed, clothes, gasoline, mail and other supplies.

The 50-odd helicopters which evacuated 600 persons in Humboldt County and Oregon City, Ore., have begun to supply full-time airlifts, except for unexpected emergency medical evacuations.

The Hawks Extend Unbeaten Streak

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull, who has driven many a National Hockey League goalie to distraction with hockey's heaviest shot, threw New York Ranger netminder Jacques Plante for a loss with a couple of blenders.

Hull fired eight shots at Plante Tuesday night as the Hawks extended their unbeaten string to 11 games and moved into a tie for first place with a 4-2 victory over the Rangers in the only NHL game played.

Six of Hull's shots were the kind of bullets that have him hot on the trail of the greatest goal-scoring year any NHL player has ever enjoyed. Plante stopped those.

The other two were softies from close up and those were the ones that wound up in the net for Hull's 30th and 31st goals of the year.

The goals put Hull 20 games ahead of the pace he maintained in 1961-62 when he tied Rocket Richard and Bernie Geoffrion's one-season record of 50 goals.

Southern RR Strike Broken by Ruling

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has ordered firemen Southern Railroad. A union official said early today members have been ordered to lift their picket lines and return to work.

"I have notified all of our local chairmen to remove the picket lines and terminate the strike of our members as required by the court order," said J. W. Jennings, vice president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Jennings said the union had been served with the restraining order issued Tuesday night in Columbus, Ga., by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliot.

Ellington May Be Agri Secretary

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports circulated today in political, government and farm circles that President Johnson will name former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington as secretary or undersecretary of agriculture.

Some sources said Ellington may be named to a high advisory post at the White House. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reportedly was making a check on him of the type that is routine for possible appointees to high government posts.

Ellington returned to Tennessee Tuesday night after visiting Johnson at his Texas ranch. He said he usually makes such a visit during the holidays. In reply to a question, he said he had no plans to leave Tennessee at this time.

The White House has not commented on the possibility that Ellington might take a federal post.

As for the Agriculture Department possibilities, neither Secretary Orville L. Freeman nor Undersecretary Charles S. Murphy has indicated any intention to resign. Nor has Johnson given an indication that he wants either of them to quit.

Ellington, 57, is a Democrat and has a farm background. He was reared on one, operated one, and served as Tennessee's commissioner of agriculture from 1953 to 1958. He was elected to a four-year term as governor in 1958.

Four years ago he figured in speculation about appointment as secretary of agriculture in the Kennedy administration. He said then he intended to serve his full term as governor.

Ellington now is an executive of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. He worked actively for Johnson in the Southeast during the recent presidential campaign.

At the Agriculture Department, top officials said they believed that Johnson will keep both Freeman and Murphy.

But some farm leaders with close connections in Ellington's home state said they believe that if he came here, it would be as secretary of agriculture.

At one time Ellington was associated with activities of the Farm Bureau, the big farm organization which has been highly critical of farm policies advanced so far by the Kennedy-Johnson administration.

Cost of removing litter from national parks and forests of the U. S. amounts to $2 million annually.

White wedding bells and gold wedding rings decorated the front door, and throughout the home the nuptial theme was carried out with a miniature bride and groom, hearts, bells, and lovely yellow flowers. The dining table was covered with a white cloth which had a gold thread as trimming. A gold and white arrangement was used as a centerpiece.

A miniature Bible with appropriate dates commemorating the Christmas Eve wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Collier in 1914 and the births of their six children embellished the anniversary cake. ## DEAR ABBY

IT'S EMOTIONAL UPSET!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I know this is going to sound ridiculous, but I'm ashamed to ask anyone else. How can I break my husband of sucking his thumb? When he sleeps, reads the newspaper or settles down to watch TV, he sucks his left thumb. I know he isn't aware of it because when I tell him to quit it, he is always shocked to find his thumb in his mouth. We have two small children who also suck their thumbs when they're tired, and it is so hard to break them of it when they see their father doing it. Is it hereditary? It's such an unmanly habit for a 34-year-old man. It's caused many fights between us. Can you help me?

SUCKER'S WIFE
Dear Wife: A psychiatrist would probably tell you that your husband is longing for the Fulton, during the Christmas Holiday.

Major Clinton Jones and family of Ft. Benning, Ga., is visiting during the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jones of Patmos. Their daughter, Billie, who is a student at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., will also join them here for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ridling and Gary; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Huber and Sheri of Blytheville; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ridling, Sharon and David of Bridge City; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ridling, Mike and Susan; Mrs. Murvel Browning of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ridling, Beverly and Paula of Magnolia; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ridling, Kelvin, Robin, and Wayne, Texarkana; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Saze of Little Rock spent the Christmas holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert and Thurman Ridling.

security of his baby days. (They call it "regression.") It isn't hereditary. Children are imitative, which is partly the reason your children suck their thumbs. Granted, it's not "manly," but it's not worth fighting about, so if it irritates him to be reminded—skip it.

Dear Abby: I recently visited my sister, who lives in another state. She is married to a quiet, well-to-do man. They have a 16-year-old daughter. I didn't realize how much tension my sister was living under, until I stayed there. He is a dictator and no one dares to disagree with him on anything. My sister has no car and if she isn't home when he calls, he comes home, waits for her and makes her account for every minute. He handles all the money. She never sees a red cent. Everything is charged and he pays the bills. The daughter isn't allowed to date or to accept a phone call from a boy. At dinner he demands that the daughter finish every speck on her plate, so the child has to choke it down with tears running down her cheeks. My sister sits there trembling, afraid to say a word. Once she tried to take her daughter's part against him and he slapped her from one end of the kitchen to the other. Now I know why people kill each other. Is there something I can do, legally, to relieve the situation?

CONCERNED
Dear Concerned: You can't—but your sister can if she wants to prefer charges against him. I doubt that she will, however, because a woman who puts up with the cruel and inhuman treatment is as "sick" as the husband who dishes it out. The most tragic victim is the daughter, who must be subjected to such a brutish tyrant. Try to persuade your sister to improve her situation or extricate herself and her daughter from it. But don't be surprised if she doesn't.

Dear Abby: I would like to offer a solution to INADEQUATE MOM. I am a 16-year-old high school junior. After dinn-

Last Soph QB Didn't Do Too Well

DALLAS (AP) — The last time a sophomore quarterback played in the Cotton Bowl was 1954 and the guy's name was Bart Starr — yes, the Bart Starr who now leads the mighty Green Bay Packers of pro football.

Starr didn't have too good a day. His team, Alabama, was beaten 28-6 by Rice although a fellow named Tommy Lewis came off the bench to tackle Dicky Moegele when the latter was on the way to a showdown.

Friday a sophomore named Bob Churchich will be at the helm when Nebraska plays Ar-

Fans Want Texas to Beat Alabama

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas has two obstacles to becoming the only major unbeaten team in the nation after Jan. 1 — and at least 543 persons are kansas in the Cotton Bowl. Churchich might well be called football's miracle man.

It was the third game of the season. Fred Duda had gone out with a broken leg in the first period against Iowa State. Churchich was sent in.

He had played very little and in the first two games had managed only 38 yards in passing.

Nebraska had the ball on its 30 with fourth down and a yard to go for a first down. Churchich a little uncertainly called for a run. It didn't make the distance and Nebraska lost the ball.

But back in the huddle some of the old heads on the Nebraska team talked rather sternly to Churchich. They told him this wasn't a one-man situation, that he didn't have to do it all himself and that he shouldn't hesitate about what plays he called — they were with him in whatever he did.

Churchich led Nebraska to a 14-7 victory and from then on was the keyman in the Cornhusker offense.

He threw 102 passes and completed 54 for 693 yards and seven touchdowns. He carried the ball for 152 yards. He either scored a touchdown or passed for one or two in every game as Nebraska rolled to a 9-1 season and got a spot in the Cotton Bowl.

Even in the game Nebraska lost, to Oklahoma, Churchich passed for the lone Cornhusker touchdown.

Actually, Churchich was only repeating what Duda had done the season before. Duda, a sophomore then, had gone in when Dennis Claridge went out with an injury.

But Churchich in nine games gained 64 more yards passing than Duda did in 10.

Churchich hasn't played like a sophomore since that little talk in the huddle and Arkansas (1) can't figure on him making a change Friday.

vitaly interested in seeing both of them overcome.

They have to beat sixth-ranked Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl team, and wish Texas into a victory over Alabama in the Orange Bowl the same day.

Arkansas beat Texas 14-13 en route to the Southwest Conference championship.

The 543 fans sent a telegram several feet long to the Texas training camp in Miami, Fla., Tuesday.

The message read: "We are proud that you have been selected to represent the Southwest Conference in the Orange Bowl. We are rooting for you to beat Alabama. We know you can do it. Hook 'em 'Horns." Then followed the 543 names.

The Little Rock Razorback Club organized the telegram, with donations from Little Rock, North Little Rock, Benton and Nashville.

Wichita Gets Big Shock in Philadelphia

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wichita basketball coach Gary Thompson didn't fly a kite but the way he figures it he got a bigger shock in Philadelphia than Ben Franklin.

"This is the last time I'll come here," Thompson said Tuesday night after his second-ranked Wheatshockers were beaten by 10th-ranked St. Joseph's, Pa., 77-69 in the championship game of the Quaker City Basketball Tournament.

Thompson's complaints were about the fans and, of course, the officiating.

"I don't have rabbit ears," said Thompson, "but some of the things that were said were pretty bad. The fans are too loud."

As for the officials, Thompson said they were "not consistent in their calls. I disagree with the tempo. There is more body contact here than in the Midwest."

The Wheatshockers had 23 personal fouls called against them by referees John Stevens and Tom Lennon to 10 for St. Joseph's — and actually lost the game at the foul line. Each team connected for 23 field goals but the Hawks made 20 of 29 foul shots to 13 of 15 for Wichita.

The upset was the second in two nights pulled off by the Hawks, extended their unbeaten string to 10 and continue local mastery of the 4-year-old tournament. St. Joseph's also won the tournament in 1962 while Villanova and LaSalle won the others.

Sixth-ranked Illinois, which dropped a 75-71 decision to St. Joseph's Monday night, took third place in the tournament with a 74-65 victory over Villanova.

The Quaker City was one of six tournaments which crowned champions Tuesday night while other major holiday classics moved through preliminary action and set the stage for a Wednesday night program spotlighting 10 finals plus the cherished individual duel between Cazzie Russell of top-ranked Michigan and Bill Bradley of Princeton in the semifinals of the Holiday Festival at New York.

Besides Wichita, only one other ranked team was involved in a title game Tuesday night with seventh-ranked Indiana walloping Memphis State 91-68 in the Memphis State Classic.

Miami of Florida won the Hurricane Classic at Miami by downing Maryland 80-73. Davidson annexed the Charlotte Invitational with an 81-63 triumph over Ohio University. Penn State edged Detroit 75-73 in the Motor City Classic wrap-up and Baylor defeated Clemson 68-59 for the championship of the Poinsettia Classic at Greenville, S.C.

Crimson Back Offered Huge Pro Contract

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama quarterback Joe Namath has been offered $389,000 to sign with the New York Jets of the American Football League. In 1947, with that kind of money, you could have bought the Detroit Lions twice — and still received $89,000 change.

The astounding offer to Namath, a major target in the multi-million-dollar pro football signing war between the National and American Football leagues, was revealed to The Associated Press Tuesday in Miami by sources close to Namath and the Jets.

At the same time, another passing whiz, Tulsa's Jerry Rhyme, signed with Dallas of the NFL although he was offered more money by the AFL's Houston Oilers.

And Georgia's All-America tackle, Jim Wilson, wound up with two contracts — one from each league.

All three cases bore the mark of the highest bidding war in pro football history — hard to believe.

First there was the offer made to Namath for $100,000 a year for three years plus a new limousine and other bonuses totaling in the neighborhood of $89,000. That would make the son of a Neaver Falls, Pa., gas station attendant the highest priced rookie ever.

Could that really be the price was the first question posed?

"It's more than that," said a spokesman for the St. Louis Cardinals, who asked not to be identified.

"We'll pay more to get him than has ever been paid for a rookie," admitted Coach Webb Ewbank of the Jets. "We expect to get him."

Namath's signing is expected to be announced this weekend after Alabama meets Texas in the Orange Bowl game Friday night.

Rhyme was a future pick in both leagues and had been traded to Houston by the Jets in return for the rights to Namath. Rhyme said the Oilers had offered him more money but "I want to play in the National Football League, which is stronger than the AFL."

Rhyme's contract with the Cowboys stipulates he cannot be sold or traded for the first year. So he will be in Dallas, battling veteran Don Meredith and rookie Craig Morton for the quarterbacking job.

Where Wilson will be, however, just might be a question for lawyers to decide.

Drafted by Boston of the AFL and San Francisco of the NFL, Wilson apparently signed a contract with the Patriots on Aug. 25 — the league office says it has the contract — and then signed with the 49ers after the

Scoring on Porkers Not an Easy Feat

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Nebraska can accomplish quite a feat against Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1 and the Cornhuskers don't have to win to do it. All they have to do is score.

That is more than the last five Arkansas foes could do.

The second-ranked Razorbacks shut out Wichita, Texas A & M, Rice, Southern Methodist and Texas Tech, and hope to stretch the string to six in Dallas New Year's Day.

Arkansas allowed its first five opponents — Oklahoma State, Tulsa, Texas Christian, Baylor and Texas — a total of 57 points for a season's average of 5.7 per game 8 best in the nation among major college football teams.

Four members of Arkansas' defensive team made the All-Sun Bowl game last Saturday.

Vince Dooley, Georgia coach, said the university plans to protest to AFL Commissioner Joe Foss because Wilson signed while he was still in school and said representatives of the Boston club no longer are welcome on the Georgia campus.

"I don't blame the Georgia coach for being upset," said Patriots' President Billy Sullivan. "But I don't think it was our responsibility to notify the coach. That was the player's responsibility. There was no undue pressure on this boy to sign."

Sullivan also said, "We have notified San Francisco that we have a signed contract... we are assuming they didn't know we already had a signed contract."

There was one other big name signing — Wake Forest fullback Brian Piccolo going with the Chicago Bears. Piccolo, the nation's leading college scorer and ground gainer, was not picked in either the NFL or AFL draft and was a free agent.

Cotton Bowl QBs Differ in Experience

DALLAS (AP)—There's a difference in their ages and experience but the quarterbacks of the Cotton Bowl game have a great deal in common when it comes to playing football.

It was the third game of the season before each took the chance to show what he could do.

Nebraska, under sophomore Bob Churchich, rolled to a 9-1 record.

Arkansas, under five-year senior Fred Marshall, never lost a game.

Churchich got to show his stuff when the regular quarterback, Fred Duda, went out with an injury.

Marshall, who had become the starting quarterback on the basis of what he did in spring training, was terrible in the first honor student in high school and at the University of Arkansas is class president.

Also backing Gray is Martine Bercher, a sophomore from Fort Smith, Ark., who was an outstanding four-sport athlete in high school and the state's top scorer in Class A for two years. He was redshirted in 1963 and saw only limited defensive play this fall. His college major is business.

Brightest star of the Porker defensive backfield is Ken Hatfield, a senior from Helena, Ark. A rare combination of player and student leader, he's one of the nation's most exciting performers and for two straight years has led the NCAA in punt returns. His career record in punt returns is 1,708 yards of run backs. He holds nearly every University of Arkansas record in the book for kick returns. Hatfield excels not only in football but also academically. He is the younger brother of center Dick Hatfield.

Supporting Hatfield at the right halfback position is Stu Berryhill, a sophomore from Cleveland, Okla. Berryhill concentrated his efforts on defense as a Shoat and in limited duty as a sophomore. The former high school senior class president and honor student now majors in education at Arkansas.

The safeties are Harry Jones, sophomores from Enid, Okla., and Garland Ridenour, junior from Fort Smith.

A converted quarterback, Jones became a mainstay in the Porker defense with 30 tackles, 14 assists, and two pass interceptions, one of which he ran back 35 yards for a touchdown against TCU.

First Cotton Bowl Game Back in 1937

A spectacular game between Texas Christian University and Marquette University on January 1, 1937, inaugurated the Cotton Bowl classic and began a tradition of great stars and exciting football.

These were the days of L. D. Meyer and Sammy Baugh, the former scoring all of TCU's 16 points while Baugh constantly threatened with his passing. The weather was rainy and the field was wet.

The Cotton Bowl game was originally conceived by J. Curtis Sanford, a Dallas oil man and business executive. His promotion, as a private enterprise, of that first game in 1937, matching Sammy Baugh and his 1937 teammates against a great Marquette team was the start of Cotton Bowl history.

Late, the Cotton Bowl game became a Dallas civic enterprise. It gained its greatest strength and momentum in 1940 when the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association became an agency of the Southwest Athletic Conference. In 1942, the conference voted to send its championship team annual to the Cotton Bowl game as the host team.

The Cotton Bowl classic today is the official Southwest Conference post-season bowl game. The thing that makes it unique among the other post-season bowl games is that it is directly sponsored and controlled by the Southwest Conference. No other bowl association or bowl game is tied in so closely with a college athletic conference.

The Cotton Bowl Athletic Association is a non-stock, non-profit organization incorporated game against Oklahoma State.

He suffered a shoulder injury, to be sure, but that was part of the excuse to hold him out of the second game — against Tulsa. This and the fact that he had been too tight, had overshoot his receivers and had gained only seven yards running with the ball.

Coach Frank Broyles wasn't going to put him back in because of the possibility of wrecking his football career. Two bad games in a row would have meant the finish.

Then Broyles tried him against Texas Christian in the third game of the season and he came through. He ran, passed and directed Arkansas to a 29-6 victory.

From then on there just wasn't any doubt about who would be the Arkansas quarterback. Marshall compiled 1,094 yards in total offense, passed for four touchdowns, scored three and made the All-Southwest Conference team.

Churchich was untested the day he was called upon to take over for the injured Duda. But that didn't last long. He got the Cornhuskers swinging down the championship lane. He scored four touchdowns, passed for seven, ran for 152 yards and

McClendon Is Going Over Strategy

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Charlie McClendon will spend most of his time today devising strategy for his Louisiana State football Tigers to use against Syracuse in the Sugar Bowl. At other times his thoughts will go back 17 Christmas Eves.

It was 17 years ago today in the tiny town of Stephens, Ark., population 1,300, that McClendon, then a young football player at Magnolia, Ark., A&M, a junior college, married Dorothy Faye Smart.

Dorothy Faye McClendon now the mother of two children, has known nothing but football since then.

"But the advantages of being a football wife far outweigh the disadvantages," Mrs. McClendon said today in an interview. "Meeting so many people... traveling around has just been wonderful."

This year the McClendons are spending a quiet Christmas at home with their children, Dolores, 14, and Scott, 6. McClendon dismissed his football team for Christmas. The players report back at noon Saturday.

"Last year we celebrated our anniversary and Christmas in a hotel room in Montgomery, Ala.," Mrs. McClendon said. Her husband was one of the coaches for the 1963 Blue-Gray All-Star game.

"We've had lots of bowl games around Christmas time in the 17 years," she said. "And when we didn't have one, we went back to Arkansas and Charles usually goes hunting with his brothers."

Charlie Mac — his wife is one of the few persons who doesn't call him that — is the youngest of seven brothers. The McClendon family home is at Lewisville, Ark., not too far from Stephens.

"After our marriage, we went to Kentucky and Charles began playing football for Paul Bryant," the attractive Mrs. McClendon continued.

Bryant, now coaching at Alabama, recruited McClendon after he graduated from junior college and McClendon became a star end for the Wildcats. He made two bowl trips as a player under Bryant — to the 1950 Orange Bowl and the 1951 Sugar Bowl where Kentucky upset national champion Oklahoma.

The coming Sugar Bowl marks McClendon's ninth post-season game as a player, assistant coach or head coach. He's been the head coach at LSU for three years and each season his team has landed a bowl bid.

"I think Charles is a lot like non-football husbands," said Dorothy Faye. "I don't think he's done his Christmas shopping yet for that one present I'm not supposed to know about. I'm sure many other husbands haven't either."

Stan Musial was the fifth person in baseball history to reach a record of 10,000 official times at bat.

ed under the laws of the state of Texas. All funds remaining after the schools' shares of the receipts are awarded, and after actual operating costs are paid, accrue to the Southwest Conference.

In 1941, the Southwest Conference sponsored its first Cotton Bowl game between Texas A&M, the conference champion, and Fordham University. This game was the first sellout the Cotton Bowl had ever known.

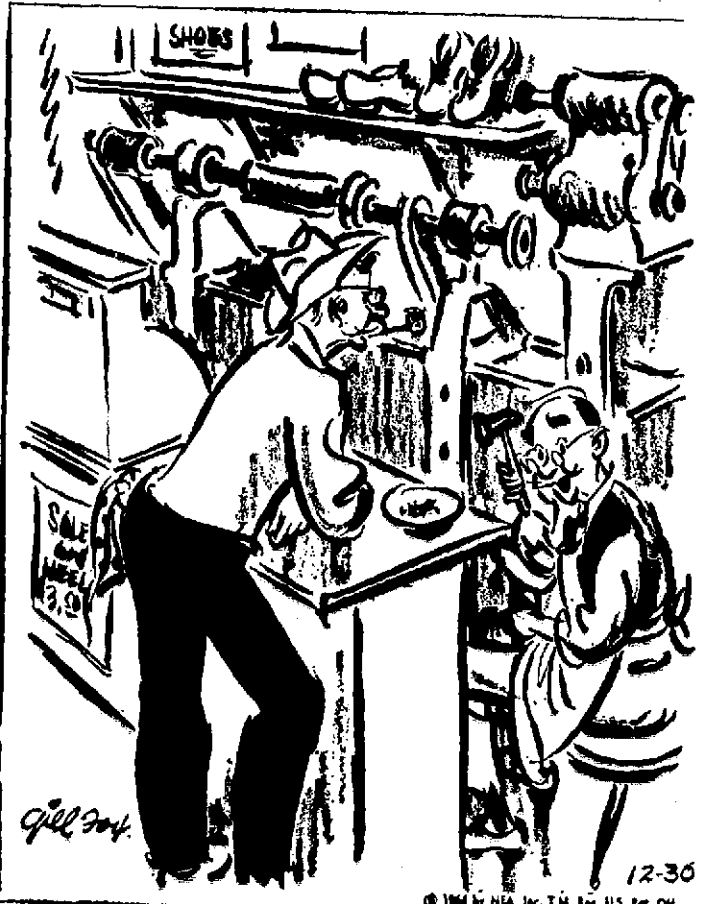

Since that time, the Cotton Bowl has been packed for almost every game, and the stadium, at first large enough for only 45,507 fans, has been twice enlarged and double-decked to its present 75,504 capacity.

Some of the best offensive shows in bowl game history have been staged in Dallas, among the most noteworthy being Bobby Layne's passing (11 completions out of 12 efforts) in Texas' 40-27 victory over Missouri in 1946; Dicky Moege's running (285 yards in 11 carries, with touchdown runs of 34 yards, 79 yards and 95 yards) for Rice in the 28-6 victory over Alabama in the 1954 game; and the 1964 classic with Duke Carlisle of Texas setting a new offensive record of 267 yards (54 rushing and 213 passing) and Roger Staubach of Navy setting two more records — most passes completed with 21 and most yards gained passing with 228.

The names on the list of Cotton Bowl stars hint at the fine football seen — Sammy Baugh, Whizzer White, John Kimbrough, Ki Aldrich, Joe Rott, Lou DeFilippo, Bud McFadin, Norm Van Brocklin, Y. A. Tittle, Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, Harry Sewell, Babe Parilli, Kyle Role, Doak Walker, Dicky Moege, Jim Brown and many others.

Great Year for Sports in Arkansas

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

Frank Broyles finally matched the Faubus record: He won 'em all.

Hog Land was hog wild about the 10-0 Arkansas Razorbacks. There was a raft of other milestones in Arkansas athletics in a banner year that was wild, wonderful and, at times, ironic. It was a record-shattering year that lifted Broyles and Arkansas' football fortunes to the highest plateau in their history. The Razorbacks were unbeaten and untied for the first time since 1909 when Arkansas' team went 7-0.

The Razorbacks were Southwest Conference champions for the fourth time in six years. They were bound for a bowl game (Cotton Bowl) for the fifth time in six years.

They pulled off an incredible 14-13 victory over Texas. They held five straight opponents scoreless and had the third best defense in conference history.

They were ranked No. 2 nationally, the highest ranking an Arkansas team has managed.

They had linebacker Ronnie Caveness on the All-America team and a host of players on the all-SWC team.

Arkansas State went unbeaten, too, and—irony of ironies—didn't win a championship.

The Indians posted a 7-0-2 football record, with ties to Lamar Tech and Arlington State (both 7-7) in the inaugural Southland Conference race. Arkansas State finished as runner-up to Lamar Tech.

Even so, State led the league in total offense, in scoring and in defense against scoring.

Arkansas Tech rolled unbeaten in league play to capture the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football crown. Then the Wonder Boys polished off their season with a 34-32 victory over the Missouri intercollegiate champions.

Conway became the first Class AA team to capture the No. 1 spot in the final Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll with an 11-0 season. The Wampus Cats, naturally, were victors—in Region 3AA-West.

Little Rock Hall won the Big 12 Conference football crown by taking a Thanksgiving Day battle from Little Rock Central, which finished second in the conference.

Sheridan won the Region 3AA-East title, Rogers won in Region 1AA, Stuttgart in Region 2AA and Hope in Region 4AA football races.

Baseball brought big news. The Arkansas Travelers, behind the slugging of Costen Shockley, Adolph Phillips and Richie Allen (most of the season) and the sturdy pitching of Morris Stevens and others, captured the Pacific Coast League's Eastern Division championship.

Then the Travelers met San Diego in the PCL playoff and the Padres won the series in the seventh—and last—game.

Brooks Robinson, a Little Rock native, was selected the Most Valuable Player in the American League. He went to Little Rock Central where he played basketball in the mid-50s. Robinson had been for years rated among the best fielders in the major leagues and often was called the best third baseman in the AL.

Little Rock also played host to the annual American Legion baseball world series.

R. H. Sikes of Springdale was big news in Arkansas and elsewhere for the feats that made him the hottest rookie on the PGA tour.

The skinny Sikes, who learned his golf as a barefoot caddy at Springdale Country Club, won the Sahara Invitational at Las Vegas and chalked up money winnings of more than $23,000 before taking a rest break in October. He returned to the tour after that.

It was a big year in golf for Pine Bluff, too. Richard McCauley of Pine Bluff won the Arkansas Men's Amateur. Becky Glasscock of Pine Bluff won the state Women's Amateur and George McKeown, pro at Pine Bluff Country Club, won the Arkansas Open.

Ouchita was tops in basketball in the AIC standings and then the Tigers swept the league playoff only to lose its first game in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament.

North Little Rock downed Conway to capture the Class AA AAA state tournament crown. Brinkley beat Waldo in the Class A finals and Delight ran its winning streak to 42 games by downing Hickory Ridge in the Class B finale.

State Teachers College swept its fourth straight AIC track championship and Little Rock Central continued its domination of Class AAA track.

Benton was Class AA track champion. Brinkley got a Class A track title to go with its basketball triumph, and Harding Academy was Class B track winner.

Nebraska's Season Made in 3rd Game

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — If a Nebraska season marked by nine straight victories and a single windup loss can be said to have had a turning point, it would have to be the first quarter of the season's third football game.

The Cornhuskers, fresh from an opening romp over South Dakota and a 26-21 conquest of Minnesota, were playing Iowa State at Ames.

Quarterbacking was Fred Duda, a 5-10, 186-pound junior from Chicago who had performed sensationally in the clutch against the Gophers a week before.

Heir to the spot vacated by the graduated Dennis Claridge,

Duda was emerging as a master of the option play, a fine passer and a starring cinch. As much as any player, he shaped up as a key man in Nebraska's quest of a second straight Big Eight title.

Then it happened. Iowa State sophomore Joe Beauchamp hit Duda with a hard, clean tackle. In the fall, Duda suffered a severe leg fracture.

An ambulance hustled Duda to a hospital and for the disappointment of young Chicagoan, the season was ended.

For Nebraska, hard hit already by graduation losses, this was a crisis.

Backup quarterbacks consisted mostly of untested although promising sophomores.

Coach Bob Devaney gave the nod to Bob Churchich, a 5-11, 176-pounder from Omaha.

With Churchich in charge, the Huskers won that Iowa State game 14-7, went on to conquer South Carolina, Kansas State, Colorado, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma State in the border before yielding to Oklahoma.

Churchich came of age in a hurry and that's one of the reasons he's been tabbed to challenge seasons sixth-ranked Nebraska has won Bowl in Dallas New Year's and-ranked Arkansas in the Cotton Day.

Churchich completed 54 of 102 passes for 893 yards and seven touchdowns and gained another 152 yards on the ground.

Nebraska's successes, even had Duda remained healthy, would have surprised Devaney. "If anyone would have told us before the season we would be 9-1 and win the title, I'd have tried to find out what he was taking — so I could get that happy, too," Devaney said recently.

There were some squeakers on the schedule.

Against Missouri in the sea were scoreless going into the son's seventh game, the clubs 48-875 in Nebraska's Memorial final period and many of the Stadium — enlarged last summer to hold an additional 13,500 spectators — were about ready to settle for a no-score standoff.

Then Sophomore End Langston Coleman got past Missouri defenders and smeared Quarterback Gary Lane across his own goal line for a safety. Seven minutes later Churchich arched a pass to Halfback Kent McCloughan for a 37-yard touchdown and Nebraska won 9-0.

Against Kansas a week later, it took Churchich's passing, great running by Halfback Bob Husker defensive unit to pull out Hohn, and clutch play by the semifinal game, Nebraska's pint-sized fullback, Frank Solich, broke a 7-7 tie with an 83-yard punt return for a touchdown and a 14-7 win.

Against Oklahoma State in the the Huskers went on to win 27-14.

The finale against Oklahoma saw the Sooners, beset through much of the season by fumbles and other misfortune, put to together a nearly errorless 60 minutes to win 17-7.

"The Green Bay Packers couldn't have stopped them (Oklahoma) that day," one impressed game witness commented later.

Devaney himself noted that the Sooners "made no mistakes and proved that when they are right, they're as good as the sportswriters predicted in September."

The coach confided, once the dust had settled, he had figured the team might have to settle this year for six wins in 10 starts, but instead "this bunch of young kids...came through week after week."

"They might not have had the greatest ability in the world,"

Devaney Could Have Been a Congressman

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — During the recent general election, one Nebraska voter wrote in the name of University of Nebraska football Coach Bob Devaney as his choice for congressman.

It stirred no ripple in the political world, but represented another tribute to a genial Irishman whose Nebraska career has been marked by successes beyond the wildest dreams of most Cornhusker partisans.

In three seasons at a school which had not had a winning grid season for seven years, Devaney has posted 28 victories against 4 losses, and against Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day will be in quest of a third straight bowl game victory.

Little wonder, then, that Nebraskaans hail the 49-year-old Devaney as a modern-day Moses who has led Nebraska out of the football wilderness.

One time aide to Biggie Munn and Duffy Daugherty at Michigan State, Devaney came to Nebraska from Wyoming as successor to Bill Jennings, whose five-year tenure had been marked by 15 victories, 34 losses and one tie.

Intent on ending the grid drought, University brass first lured Tippy Dye from Wichita to be athletic director, and assigned him to recruit the best football coach the market could supply.

It was Dye who turned up Devaney, and the wheels really began to turn.

Unbelieving Husker fans saw Devaney mold the carryovers from a team which had posted a 3-6-1 mark in 1961 into a team that won its first six games, finished 8-2 for the regular season and climaxed the effort with a 36-34 victory over Miami's George Mira and company in New York City's now defunct Gotham Bowl.

More than once at the end of the 9-2, 1962 season, writers hung a "miracle worker" tag on Devaney, while wondering: "What's he going to do for an encore?"

Devaney answered the question by blitzing nine of 10 regular season opponents last year, earning for Nebraska its first Big Eight football title in 23 years and an Orange Bowl bid which the Huskers converted into a 13-7 triumph over Auburn for a 10-1 season.

Amazing as was the abrupt turnaround in football fortunes under Devaney, truth is that his predecessor, Coach Jennings, an able recruiter, had bequeathed

Devaney some excellent football talent.

The Jennings recruits included the likes of All-America Guard Bob Brown, one of 11 seniors last year who were drafted or signed by professional clubs.

The loss of all that talent led Big Eight experts last summer to figure the Huskers this year for a fourth place finish in the league.

To just about everyone's surprise, Nebraska won its first nine games this year, running its two-season win string to 14 games, longest in the nation.

In the final game, an Oklahoma team that jelled belatedly after rating as a pre-season favorite for the title mastered Nebraska 17-7, but by then the Huskers already had accepted the Cotton Bowl bid and clinched a second straight Big Eight crown.

Devaney's career marked now stands at 63 victories, 14 losses and 5 ties, best record in the nation among active coaches.

A jovial fellow who flirts with a weight problem, and exudes a sort of baggy-pants, homespun charm, Devaney communicates a sense of humor that has turned the downtown football luncheons attended weekly by 400 to 500 businessmen and other rabid fans into real guffaw sessions.

He is not given to alibis and tends to take the infrequent setbacks more philosophically than do many of the fans.

Observers have been hard put to find a single key to Devaney's success.

Hard work and intensive preparation are obvious ingredients. Also apparent is teamwork in the coaching staff, most members of which Devaney brought

Broyles on Coach of Year List

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Cotton Bowl coaching foes Frank Broyles of Arkansas and Bob Devaney of Nebraska were among eight nominees for the major College Coach-of-the-Year award announced Tuesday.

The finalists were announced by the Eastman Kodak Co. and the American Football Coaches Association, co-sponsors of the award.

The other nominees were Bear Bryant of Alabama, Tommy Prothro of Oregon State, Harold W. Lahar of Colgate University, Richard W. Colman of Princeton, William L. Tate of Wake Forest and Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame.

Nominees for the small college coach award are yet to be announced.

Both awards will be made at the coaches convention in Chicago Jan. 10-13. Nominees will receive a medallion — the winner a bronze plaque.

With him from Wyoming, coupled with a friendly rivalry which has each assistant wanting to excel in his particular responsibility.

Not the least, his players swear by him, not at him.

JADE FOR A LADY

The Story: Milo March is told that a retired Hong Kong merchant has the largest jade collection in the colony and may help him run down the jade thieves. Meanwhile Milo March engages Frank Burney, a private detective.

IX

"We could probably do the job for you," he said. "We don't handle many criminal cases - no agency does here. But we do have a few Chinese operatives who have the sort of contacts you need. We certainly know the city. I've been here 15 years, and my partner has been here five. I've had my share of rough stuff when it was necessary. We can probably do as good a job as anyone else, maybe a little better."

"I liked his honesty. 'How much?' I asked.

"Two hundred dollars a day for each person used and, of course our expenses." He must have noticed the expression on my face, for he smiled. "That's Hong Kong dollars."

"I made a quick calculation. That was about $35 a day - American dollars - for each person. 'That'll be all right,' I said, 'as long as you don't suddenly put 10 men on the pay roll.'"

"We never paid our pay roll or expenses," he said. "I think Simons will tell you that much. Actually, either my partner or myself will work on the case alone, unless something comes up that requires some one else. Is it a deal?"

"It's a deal. Want some expense money in advance?"

"We usually get it."

"How much?"

"Five hundred dollars will do - Hong Kong dollars. We'll probably need more later, but we'll ask you. And, of course, we'll give you an accounting for what is spent."

"I counted out $500 and gave it to me. He wrote out a receipt for me.

"Now," he said, "before you give me the rest of the information, I'd like you to meet my partner." He picked up his phone and pressed a button on its base. "Will you come in, Linda?" he asked. "There's someone I want you to meet."

He replaced the phone.

Even though I'd been warned by the name he had used, I wasn't prepared for what arrived. She was a blonde, probably in her late twenties, although she could have been younger. She had one of those flawless, beautiful faces that blondes sometimes have. And a figure that would have stopped traffic anywhere in the world.

"Linda," Burney said, "I'd like you to meet Milo March, a new client. Miss Linda McKay, my partner."

"I'm glad to know you, Mr. March," she said. She had a voice that went with the rest of her.

"Well," I said, "it seems to me that private detectives are getting prettier every day."

They both laughed. "Linda's a good detective, too," Burney said, "although most people don't believe it when they first see her. Linda, I'll fill you in later on what Mr. March has already told me about his case."

"Now, Mr. March, you want to give us the details about the two people who pulled the job?"

"There isn't much to give," I said. "I know nothing about the man, except that he's Chinese. He showed up in New York two months ago and left a week ago, the day after the robbery. The safe was opened by an expert, and I think this man is the one who did it."

"That might be any one of a great number of men in Hong Kong," Burney said drily. "We have a very high percentage of experts in all forms of crime."

"The girl called herself Mary Moy. She also arrived about two months ago, and worked as a maid in the house that was robbed. She quit the job four days ago and caught a plane to Hong Kong."

"Any description of her?" the blonde asked.

"Only that she's young and beautiful and unusually tall for a Chinese girl."

"From what I've heard," she said, "it sounds as if our best bet might be to try to check on natives who have been away for the past two months and have just returned."

Burney nodded. "That and see if we can pick up anything about a jade necklace. You know, March, there's also a possibility that your necklace has vanished over the bridge into Red China. There's traffic both ways."

"I thought about it," I said. "Okay," Burney said cheerfully, "we'll have a go at it."

"Either of you ever hear of a Whitey Blake?" I asked.

"Blake?" Burney repeated. "I don't recall the name."

"He tried to kill me in New York."

Burney whistled. "We'll ask about him, too. And we'll keep you informed."

"I don't expect to sit in a hotel bar while you do the work," I said. "I'll be working, too."

The famous Lloyd's of London sells all types of insurance except long-term life and financial guarantee. It started in 1688 as a coffee house, where Edward Lloyd began to sell insurance policies against sea losses. At one time it carried an insurance of more than 600,000 pounds on a bullion shipment from Veracruz, Mexico.

Complete Story of the Cotton Bowl Provides Excitement

The Cotton Bowl stadium is located at State Fair Park in Dallas and is owned and operated by the State Fair of Texas. Official seating capacity of the stadium is 75,504.

The original Fair Park football stadium was built in 1921, entirely of wood, seating 15,000. It was thought to be a "white elephant" and few people thought it ever would be filled for a football game. However, early as 1923, the stadium was sold out when SMU played Baylor. James H. (Jimmie) Stewart, executive vice president, and general manager of the State Fair of Texas, played on the SMU team in that first sell-out game.

The wooden structure was razed in 1930 and construction of the present bowl was begun. Built to hold 45,507 spectators, the bowl cost $328,000. This structure was a "cut and fill" design, with the playing surface or field approximately 24 feet below the original ground surface. The excavated material was used in an embankment around the rim of the cut, raising the level of the concourse in the back of the top row of seats approximately 15 feet above street level.

The superstructure was built up and the west side double-decked in 1949 at a cost of $1,280,000 to bring the capacity of the stadium to 67,431. This construction was financed through the sale of bonds which allow the holders priority on tickets to sports events in the bowl.

In 1949, the east side was double-decked at a cost of $400,000 giving the stadium its present capacity of 75,504. This construction was financed through the sale of ticket options. Nothing now remains of the original bowl except a retaining wall at field level.

New team dressing rooms were built in 1949 at a cost of $55,000. Improvements to the playing field in 1949 cost $15,000. An underground sprinkler system with 33 outlets is used to water the turf. Light for night games is furnished from six towers containing 275 lamps of 1500 watts each, delivering 50 foot-candle power per square foot on the gridiron.

The three-story press box, 130 feet above the playing field level, will accommodate 142 reporters, six broadcast teams, 20 photographers and 40 Morse and teletype operators. Two dark rooms are available for the use of wirephotos direct from the bowl. An elevator to the press box was installed in 1950 at a cost of $27,000.

A big game requires 750 ushers and 168 gatemen. There are 25 public telephones in the bowl. There are two emergency hospital rooms in the bowl and six doctors are on duty for big games.

There are 50 concession stands in the stadium, serving many different types of food and beverages. More than 600 concession workers are employed during the big games. A number of the largest concession stands are decorated with the colors of the eight Southwest Conference schools and with photo-murals depicting campus scenes.

On January 1, 1937, the annual New Year's Day gridiron classic in the Cotton Bowl was inaugurated. Results of the New Year's Day games played to date follow:

Porkers Have Chance for Best Season

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Nebraska and the Cotton Bowl game pose the last possible stumbling block in the greatest football year in the University of Arkansas' history. And it could be the milestone of the Broyles Era, the seasons in which Frank Broyles, a red-haired Georgian complete with drawl, has molded and kept alive gridiron prosperity unmatched in Razorback history.

His record at Arkansas is 53-21 over-all and 34-12 in the Southwest Conference. He opened this season among the 15 most successful active coaches of major college football teams and he had his most successful year.

Arkansas went 10-0, shut out its last five opponents for the nation's best defense against scoring, won the Southwest Conference championship, No. 2 horns have won give and Arkansas opposite the sixth-ranked Cornhuskers.

It was Arkansas' fourth SWC title since Broyles arrived and the fifth bowl game under him. Broyles now has won more SWC titles and coached Razorback teams to more bowl games than the combined records of all previous football coaches at Arkansas.

Only Texas has escaped with a winning edge against Broyles in conference games. The Longhorns have won five and Arkansas two in their series since Broyles took the Razorback helm.

Broyles' teams are 7-0 against Texas A&M and Texas Tech, 6-1 against Texas Christian and Southern Methodist, 5-2 against Rice University, 4-3 against Baylor University.

The climb to the pinnacle began disastrously. Broyles' first Arkansas team—in 1958—opened with six successive losses, but wound up with four straight victories. Then it was 8-2, 8-2 and 9-1 in consecutive seasons. Last year the Razorbacks dropped to 5-5 with quarterback problems and rebounded to 10-0 this season.

There's a bit of cheer in all this for Nebraska. Arkansas has won only once in four bowl trips under Broyles.

That was in 1958, a 14-7 Gator Bowl victory over Georgia Tech. Since then Arkansas lost to Alabama and Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl and to Duke in the Cotton Bowl.

Phoenix, Ariz., contains about a dozen different kinds of date palms.

Aliens Must Tell Their Addresses

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—R. William Foley, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, has reminded all aliens that they must report their addresses during January. Forms on which the reports are made are available at post offices and naturalization offices throughout the nation, Foley said.

He said parents or guardians are required to submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age.

Willful failure to report before the end of January could lead to serious penalties, he said.
